The Pastor's Place

Dr. Brian K. White, Lead Pastor

bwhite@stmarkscarmel.org

Dear Co-workers in Christ,

It's the time of year when we are asked as a church to put together a pile of forms in anticipation of our annual meeting with our District Superintendent. At Charge Conference we summarize, philosophize, and theologize. But mostly, we count. We count members, attendees, and Sunday School students. We count insurance premiums and building costs. We count leaders and jobs and hope they come out together. And we ask ourselves, how do you measure a church?

On our Charge Conference forms we will report that we have taken in new members this year. We will report about our finances, our building, and our grounds. We will report that we have invested time, money, and prayer in new programs and ministries. We will report that we have hired new staff members. All of these things are signs of growth that will appear on our reports in various ways.

To my mind, however, there are a myriad of things that should be reported that cannot be quantified and categorized. To me the measure of our church is the lives that have been touched by Christ because our doors are open, and the word is proclaimed. Our faithfulness is measured by the times we were present with people in need. Or by the telephone calls at odd hours that remind us that God's work doesn't always happen from nine to five. I would like to enter these into the record of the church.

To me the most important document to record may be a crayon drawing of three crosses on a green hill with a black sky. In it is represented one child's early understanding that Christ died for him. It is a sign of hope that the message is getting through, that another generation will experience the grace of God and proclaim it to yet another generation.

These things I would enter into the record of the church, but there is not a line for crayon drawings or a question about tearful hospital visits. And so, like Mary, I ponder these things in my heart and thank God that the church is alive and that lives are being touched in Jesus' name. As Jesus said, "Truly I tell you, just as you did it to one of the least of these who are members of my family, you did it to me." (Matthew 25:40, NRSV) This is the measure of the church.

In Christ's service,

Brian

The Pastor's Place

Karla Elliott, Associate Pastor
kelliott@stmarkscarmel.org

Dear St. Mark's family,

October has always held a special place in my heart, especially being an Indiana native. There's just something about the crispness in the air, the golden hues of the leaves, and the cozy feeling of wrapping up in a warm scarf or sweater that evokes feelings of change, comfort, and contemplation.

As I observe the transformation taking place in nature, I am reminded of the words in Ecclesiastes 3:1-8, "For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven." This passage holds profound wisdom, reminding us that life is made up of seasons—some easy and some challenging, but all essential for our growth and development.

Fall is nature's way of signaling a time for change. The trees shed their leaves in preparation for the cold months ahead, knowing that with spring, new growth will appear. Likewise, our lives are continually undergoing seasons of change, and it's how we navigate through these transitions that shape our faith journey.

There's something beautiful about the idea that, just as the earth trusts in the natural order of things, so too should we place our trust in the ever-constant love and grace of God. In every season, whether one of joy or sorrow, we are not alone; God is with us, ushering us into the next chapter of our lives. This October, as the leaves change color and the air turns chilly, let's take a moment to be still and thank God for the seasons—both in nature and in life.

Fall is also a great time to renew our commitments, whether it's spending more time with family or deepening our spiritual lives. Let's be intentional about embracing the season and trusting that God will lead us through the changes that lie ahead.

Thank you for being a vital part of our church family. Your presence makes all the seasons more meaningful.

Blessings and Peace,
Pastor Karla

"Rebuilding Lives- Committed to Addiction Recovery"

Did you Know?

- Lucille Raines Residence (LRR) is a facility owned and operated by the United Women in Faith of Indiana (UWF).
- LRR, located in downtown Indianapolis, was founded in 1977.
- LRR houses up to 49 individuals recovering from alcohol and drug addiction, giving people a place to rebuild their lives and relationships with God, all while learning how to function independently day-to-day and working on successful recovery.
- LRR is in GREAT financial need due to UWF units disbanding locally and aging members.
- The operating budget at LRR requires $8,500 per month from United Women in Faith of Indiana to maintain this ministry. There has been a deficit of several thousand dollars for a number of months, putting this crucial ministry at risk.

How Can I Help?

- Financial donations to Lucille Raines Residence can be made online at stmarkscarmel.org/give or by using the offering envelope in the blue attendance pads.
- Pray for the residents and staff of Lucille Raines Residence.
- Contact Beth Montag of St. Mark's United Women in Faith for more information on ways you can help (bjmontag@frontier.com).

A Wonder-full Life: Looking at Money and Meaning

Three Monday PM sessions, 10/30, 11/13, 11/20 6:30-8:00pm | Scott Baker leads Room B/C, possible Zoom option if requested.

We all exist inside society's complex, all-encompassing money system, but we rarely talk about it in an honest, self-reflective way. Is it possible to live within this system with integrity and meaning—to find a deeper connection to the heart and our faith? The answer is YES, and author and financial planner

Maggie Kuluk's book Integrating Money and Meaning is the guide.

Seeing our relationship with money as central to the spiritual path helps create a more balanced, healthy life for ourselves, our families, our communities, and the planet. This group will meet for three sessions following the “A Wonder-full Life” sermons in worship this fall. Join this short-term study to gain some self-reflective and useful practices for “bringing money out of the shadows, healing its wounds, and creating a new relationship with money based on our true heart.” See more information on page 17.

We are hungry for a sense of purpose, direction, and calling in our lives. That's as basic an ingredient to the human experience as they come. We want to be part of something bigger than ourselves. We want to participate in something that has eternal merit and lasting impact. We do not want to live a shallow, hollow existence. We yearn for deeper meaning, for deeper purpose within our lives. We want to be more than we are.

In On Purpose: Finding God's Voice in Your Passion, authors Magrey deVega, Sam McGlothlin, Jevon Caldwell-Gross, and Susan Robb help us see God's purpose for our lives, how to open ourselves to God's voice, and how to take the first or next step to follow God's call. By reading this book and exploring life choices alongside others through new life stages and transitions, you will learn how to channel your passions and hear God's voice for the life you are meant to live.

Lydia Fourman & Joan Dunn lead the Wednesday study in Cornerstone Commons (Room J-K some weeks).

Robin Spyker, Sarah Copeland, and various class members lead the Friday study in Room B/C and on Zoom. Childcare is available Fridays if reserved >72 hours ahead at stmarkscarmel.org/signup.

Stewardship Extravagant Generosity

“Money makes the world go round”

according to a song from Cabaret by Kander and Ebb.

What is your relationship with money? Grudg-
ing? Reliant? Resentful? Confused?
Stressed? Do you check your balances or investments daily, weekly or monthly? Do you wonder whether you have “enough” money?

Our study book for the fall stewardship emphasis is Integrating Money and Meaning: Practices for a Heart-Centered
Life by Maggie Kulyk and Liz McGeachy (2019). Kulyk is a theologian (M.Div.)
and financial planner (an interesting combination). She likens our huge and complex financial system to a giant whale that’s swallowed us. “Like Jonah and Pinocchio, we exist inside this daunting money system, often unaware of how it surrounds us and affects not just our daily tasks but also our inner spirit and the spirit of our communities. . . . People are worried, stressed, confused, angry, occasionally joyful, but more often fearful when it comes to money.” She sought to “deal with” her money and reach a spiritual, heart-centered relationship with her finances. “With practice, we can create new relationships with money based on our true ‘hearts,’ which naturally lead to connections with others and the wider community.” Of course, we Christians all know what Jesus said about money: Don’t worry! Give to Caesar what is Caesar’s, and to God what is God’s! The widow’s two coins were more generous than a rich person’s tithe! Paul added, Don’t love money! (But Mark Twain quipped: The lack of money is the root of all evil.) Yet despite our wealth we struggle to be truly generous, and to think of money as one of our spiritual practices.

We pray that this book and the classes that study it will bring St. Markers to a heart-centered relationship with money, and a comfort with however much wealth we have (or don’t have) when seen in the context of a God-centered life. This is the true meaning of stewardship – not a short-term fund-raising campaign, but a year-round life of faith in God’s grace and generosity towards others.

See Adult Discipleship for more information on page 12.

Trustees

Beginning in mid-October, the trustees will post
temporary

welcoming and directional signs around the inside and outside of the church building. The signs will direct visitors throughout our property.
After these temporary signs have been posted, we will ask the congregation for feedback. You can offer feedback using the comment sheets located on the connection table. Your comments will help us design permanent signage for St. Mark’s.

SPRC

Jennifer Cloud-Buckner

In the role of Adult Discipleship Coordinator, Jennifer Cloud-Buckner just celebrated 4 years of organizing and supporting adult classes, studies, and small groups. We checked in with her recently and asked some fun questions.

Any noteworthy fun or trips that you had this summer? Some hiking in Indiana state parks and, of course, I always love our Walking as a Spiritual Practice walks. Our only trip was to visit family in Tennessee – was great to see our 1st grader Amelia playing with her cousins and grandparents. Also, we ended the summer with a staycation attending GenCon downtown.

What are you most looking forward to as autumn begins and winter around the corner? I love the sense of expectation that comes with a new school year and new routines, plus the new energy as study groups and the preschool return after the summer break. As a family, we love getting out our tent to do some camping (even if just in the backyard). I can't wait for Holy Walk in December!

In your role as Adult Discipleship Coordinator, where have you felt God's presence / power (dunamis) taking hold? A breakthrough prayer practice has been transformational for me personally and professionally in this Adult Discipleship role. I've heard how the daily prayer time has helped: families talk more about their spiritual lives, people gain courage to try new things with God's power, and others find reconciliation and healing for broken parts of their lives. We are gaining a new sense of God's transformational power and moving forward on the paths to which God is calling us. I can't wait to see what is next for St. Mark's!

New Missions Coordinator

The Staff-Parish Relations Committee is pleased to announce that Amy Adams has accepted the position of Missions Coordinator at St. Mark's. Amy currently serves on staff as the Administrative Assistant for Program Support and has given leadership to a number of activities and events. She brings a passion for missions and social justice and has a long history at St. Mark's and with our missions partners. She will begin transitioning to her new position immediately. The SPRC is currently assessing the needs of the office and will be making a decision about staffing her former tasks in the near future.

Holy Walk Returns!

Friday, December 1 & Saturday, December 2

Help us make the story of Jesus's birth come to life! In December, our congregation, friends, and community will once again gather to celebrate a bi-annual event that—once you experience it—will become a treasured memory, a story to share, and a Christmas tradition for your family. Thousands of guests have joined us for our live re-enactment of Bethlehem since it began in 1999, and we expect 2000-3000 people to attend in 2023! Guests call it “magical,” “unforgettable,” “a family tradition,” and the “the true meaning of Christmas.”

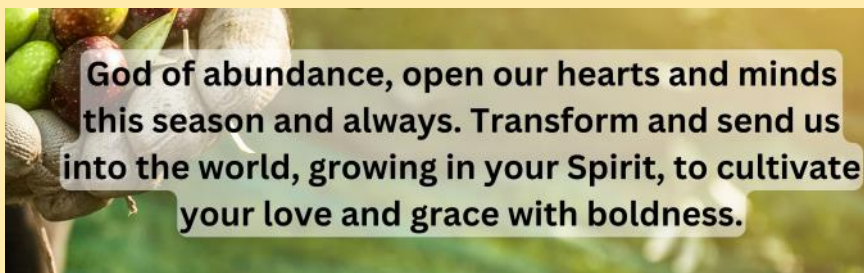

As our largest community outreach event, Holy Walk requires more than 200 volunteers. What gifts do you bring? Will you serve behind the scenes—for hospitality, building the village and outposts, food, costumes, parking and transportation, securing sheep and donkeys, laying fires for the shepherds, and more—or will serve in the spotlight as a musician, angel, Roman Guard, guide for guests, shepherd, prophet, merchant, or other part? Visit stmarkscarmel.org/holy-walk to learn where you can help. Sign up today!

Breakthrough Prayer Initiative

How is God speaking to you in response to the breakthrough prayer? Where have you experienced God's abundance? How is God transforming you? What are examples of how you have seen God's Spirit cultivate love and grace for you or for others?

We want to hear from you about how God is moving. Please share any answers to the above questions or prayer breakthroughs at stmarkscarmel.org/breakthrough.
